

I'm interested! What's in it for me?

- Share your stories, knowledge, and wisdom
- Make pregnancy and birth healthier and safer
- Make projects and policies work for your community
- Connect with other people
- Prevent deaths, illness, and injury

What is the selection process?

A small team reviews applications monthly for each group. We work to fill existing gaps with a balance of clinical, public health, community based, and people with lived experience as well as people from historically marginalized communities and representing the geographic diversity of Maine. You will hear from us within 4-6 weeks after you apply.

How do the stipends work?

Those participating as a community member, sharing their lived experience, and not representing their professional role are eligible for stipends. We will follow up with the process to receive this.
