

2024 Perinatal Quality Collaborative for Maine (PQC4ME) Annual Conference: Many Voices, One Team!

The 2024 PQC4ME Conference is a comprehensive event dedicated to advancing knowledge, collaboration, and advocacy in the perinatal field. This day-long conference brings together healthcare professionals, researchers, policymakers, and community members to explore critical topics related to perinatal health.

Key Highlights:

1. Interactive Breakout Sessions: Participants engage in interactive breakout sessions on a variety of topics across the perinatal health space. These sessions empower attendees with best practices, increased knowledge and understanding.
2. Community Engagement: Local organizations and community leaders share initiatives aimed at improving perinatal outcomes. Discussions focus on reducing disparities, promoting equity, and enhancing access to care.
3. Panel Discussions: Thought-provoking panels delve into topics such as quality improvement initiatives, lived experiences, maternal mortality, advocacy, and more. Attendees gain diverse perspectives and actionable insights.
4. Networking Opportunities: Attendees connect with colleagues, exchange ideas, and build professional relationships. Networking breakfast, lunch, and breakout sessions foster collaboration.
5. Resource Fair: A resource fair features exhibitors showcasing innovative products, services, and educational materials related to perinatal health.

By fostering dialogue, education, and collaboration, the PQC4ME Conference aims to improve outcomes for both parents and babies, ensuring a healthier start to life.

Whether attendees are healthcare providers, educators, or community advocates, this conference provides a platform to deepen their understanding, share experiences, and contribute to the well-being of families during the perinatal journey. Many Voices, One Team!
